I am a former Janesville attorney, former Rock County Circuit Judge, and I am currently a Judge on the Wisconsin Court of Appeals. I write in support of the election of the incumbent, Judge Jeff Davis, to the Wisconsin Court of Appeals, District II. I have known Judge Davis for decades, and know him as one of the most successful attorneys in the State before he took the Bench. He represented some of our State's most prominent businesses in cases that established important precedents in our State Supreme Court. Judge Davis has been very active in Wisconsin State Bar activities and has taught at Marquette Law School. He is smart, fair-minded, knows the law, and his opinions since joining the Court, which I have read without fail, are well-reasoned and clearly written. Judge Davis is exactly the kind of Judge we need to keep on the Wisconsin Court of Appeals. We need a Judge with practical experience, and Judge Davis has decades of such experience. His opponent, Shelley Grogan, has been a law clerk for virtually her entire career, and does not have that experience. There is no question about who is the most qualified candidate in this race. I strongly urge you to vote for Judge Jeff Davis.
